Special Issue on Data Management Technology

Call for Papers

Data management technology can refer to a wide range of techniques and database systems used for managing information use and allocating access both within a business and between entities. Data category and amount in human society is growing at an unprecedented rate which is caused by emerging new services such as cloud computing, internet of things and social network, the era of big data has come. Data has become fundamental resource in modern information society. Evolution and revolution on data management has become increasingly important in this situation.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring data management technology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Data management and analysis
- Big data and data management
- Data management technologies
- Data quality and integration
- Cloud computing
- Mobile data
- Database technology
- Challenges in data management
- Applications

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Data Management Technology” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Submission Deadline</th>
<th>January 20th, 2016</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Publication Date</td>
<td>March 2016</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Guest Editor: