Special Issue on Construction Management

Call for Papers

Construction Management (CM) is a professional service that uses specialized, project management techniques to oversee the planning, design, and construction of a project, from its beginning to its end. The purpose of CM is to control a project's time, cost and quality. CM is compatible with all project delivery systems, including design-bid-build, design-build, CM At-Risk and Public Private Partnerships.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on construction management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Construction planning and design
- Project time, cost and quality control
- Project decision making
- Bids and contracts
- Building safety and risk estimation
- Construction performance prediction

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Construction Management” should be chosen during your submission.
