

Special Issue on Men's Health

Call for Papers

The special issue on “Men’s Health” will be focusing on the cutting-edge information regarding men’s fitness and illness. Men’s health refers to health issues specific to human male anatomy. Most of the researches focus on the diseases related to structures such as male genitalia or physical and mental conditions caused by hormones specific to males. Specifically, the issues include prostate health, erectile dysfunction, and male infertility and so on. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of men’s health.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring men’s health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Prostatic hyperplasia
- Prostate cancer
- Male infertility
- Varicocele
- Erectile dysfunction
- Paget's disease

Authors should read over the journal’s Authors’ Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal at Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue - Men’s Health” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	February 20th, 2014
Publication Date	April 2014

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries
Please contact Editorial Assistant at health@scirp.org