

Special Issue on Speech-Language Pathology

Call for Papers

Speech-Language Pathology is a rehabilitation science, including psychology, linguistics, and even physiology. The subject is a study of language disorders such as aphasia and autism. Speech therapist specializes in the evaluation, diagnosis, and treatment of communication disorders, cognition, voice disorders, and swallowing disorders.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring Speech-Language Pathology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Communication disorders
- Language impairments
- Literacy impairments
- Swallowing disorders
- Primary pediatric speech and language disorders
- Cognitive impairments
- Aphasia
- Social communication difficulties

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Speech-Language Pathology” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 25th, 2017
Publication Date	December 2017

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries
Please contact Editorial Assistant at ijcm@scirp.org