

Special Issue on Political System

Call for Papers

The political system refers to the sum of the principles and methods that the ruling class achieves their political domination by organizing the political power in a particular society. It is produced with the appearance of human social and political phenomenon. Political system is a series of rules and regulations on various political relations, which aim to safeguard the security and interests of the community, maintain the public order and the mode of distribution.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring political system. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Democracy
- Constitution
- Head of state
- Electoral system
- Sovereign state
- Political reform
- Military system
- Political party system
- American political system
- Government administrative system

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Political System” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	February 27th, 2018
Publication Date	April 2018

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries

Scientific Research
Open Access

Open Journal of Political Science

ISSN Online: 2164-0513

Please contact Editorial Assistant at ojps@scirp.org