

Special Issue on Violence, Conflict and Aggression

Call for Papers

Violence is defined as the use of physical force with the intent to injure another person or destroy property. A conflict is a clash of interest, the basis of which may be personal, racial, class, caste, political and international. The aggression is generally defined as angry or violent feelings or behavior. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Violence, Conflict and Aggression.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Violence, Conflict and Aggression. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Bullying prevention
- Childhood violence and behavioral effects
- Conflict management
- Crime and violence
- Cyber-violence
- Domestic and family violence
- Physical, psychological and sexual violence
- Racial conflict
- School violence
- Terrorism
- Trauma, abuse, and violence
- Victim assistance
- Violence against women
- Violence and gender relations
- Violence and victims
- Violent behavior

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Violence, Conflict and Aggression” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	January 30th, 2024
Publication Date	March 2024

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at aasoci@scirp.org.