

Special Issue on Cultural and Cross-Cultural Studies

Call for Papers

Cultural and Cross-Cultural Studies is an interdisciplinary field that examines the ways in which culture shapes individuals, societies, and the interactions between different cultural groups. It explores the diversity of human cultures, their beliefs, values, practices, and the social, economic, and political contexts in which they exist. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Cultural and Cross-Cultural Studies.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Cultural and Cross-Cultural Studies. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Intercultural communication
- Cultural diversity
- Cultural identity
- Globalization
- Cultural relativism
