

Special Issue on Social Anthropology

Call for Papers

Social anthropology is the study of social behaviour and social phenomena of men of all countries and ages, which includes a study of different parts of culture, social institutions and economic and political administration. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Social Anthropology.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Social Anthropology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Ethnicity
- Ethnography
- Familial anthropology
- Economic anthropology
- Political anthropology
- Symbolology and linguistics
- Thought and art
- Ethnological society
- Palaeoanthropology
- Human relations

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Social Anthropology” should be selected during your submission.
