

Special Issue on Archaeological Science

Call for Papers

Archaeological Science studies the sites, properties, and issues from the past or present when written records and oral traditions can inform and contextualize cultural material. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Archaeological Science.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Archaeological Science. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Ancient tomb
- Archaeological bone
- Archaeological education
- Archaeological evidence
- Archaeological sites
- Archaeological theory
- Archaeology and museums
- Artefacts and materials
- Bronze Age
- Dinosaurs
- Egyptology
- Fossils
- Historical relics
- Lithics
- Medieval archaeology
- Paleoethnobotany
- Palynology
- Settlement and cultural adaptation
- Zooarchaeology

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Archaeological Science” should be selected during your submission.
