

Special Issue on Organization Studies

Call for Papers

Organization Studies is a multidisciplinary activity that brings together the concepts and research methodology of social psychology, sociology, anthropology, and other social sciences.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring organization studies. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- People in organizations
- Individual and organizational information processing
- Decision making
- The impact of technology
- Relationships between organizational structure and performance
- Analysis of group composition
- Collaboration across boundaries
- Study of organizational environment relationships

Authors should read over the journal's Authors' Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal at Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue – Organization Studies” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	December 26th, 2016
