Special Issue on Agriculture and Social Issues

Call for Papers

Every day, the food we eat connects us to a vast global web of farmers, traders, food manufacturers, retailers and many other people involved in getting food from farm to fork. Most of us probably don't pause to think about it while biting into a piece of fruit or a slice of bread, but this global food system is central to some of the biggest challenges facing humanity. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in this area of Agriculture and Social Issues .

In this special issue, we invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles that explore Agriculture and Social Issues. In this special issue, potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Agriculture and environment issues
- Agriculture and the ecological issues
- Agriculture and the economics issues
- Agriculture and the land issues
- Agriculture and employment
- Agricultural policy
- Sustainable agriculture

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the "Special Issue" under your manuscript title. The research field "Special Issue - *Agriculture and Social Issues" should be selected during your submission.
