

Special Issue on Law, Policy and Globalization

Call for Papers

The law, a general term of code and law, respectively stipulates the things that citizens can and cannot do in their social life. It is the most powerful weapon to maintain national stability and development in various fields. Legal globalization means that the whole world lives under a single rule of law. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Law, Policy and Globalization.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Law, Policy and Globalization. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- International law & economic law & environmental law
- Criminal and Corporate law
- Legal theory
- Public policy and globalization
- Law, internet and society
- Legal protection
- Global intellectual property law
- Competition law
- Immigration law and nationality law
- International terrorism

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Law, Policy and Globalization” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	June 29th, 2020
Publication Date	August 2020

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at

Scientific Research
Open Access

Beijing Law Review

ISSN Online: 2159-4635

blr@scirp.org.