

Special Issue on
Creativity, Excellence and Innovation in Education
Call for Papers

"Creativity, Excellence and Innovation in Education" focuses on exploring ways to foster creativity and innovation in educational settings to promote excellence and improve educational outcomes. It involves the study of teaching and learning strategies that encourage creativity, critical thinking, problem-solving, and innovation among students and teachers. The goal is to identify and develop educational practices and policies that enhance the quality of education, increase student engagement, and promote lifelong learning. This topic also examines the role of technology in education, teacher professional development, and assessment methods that measure creativity and innovation in education.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Creativity, Excellence and Innovation in Education. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Creativity, talent and excellence
- Innovative curriculum and instructional design
- Excellence and innovation in teaching and learning
- Teacher education and professional development
