Call for Papers

Special Issue on Primary Care and Community Health

In the journal Health (ISSN Online: 1949-5005)

Detailed information about this journal: Indexing, Editorial Board, Author's Guidelines

Primary care is the day-to-day healthcare given by a health care provider. Typically this provider acts as the first contact and principal point of continuing care for patients within a healthcare system, and coordinates other specialist care that the patient may need.

Community health is a major field of study within the medical and clinical sciences which focuses on the maintenance, protection, and improvement of the health status of population groups and communities and tends to focus more on a defined geographical community.

We sincerely welcome scholar and expert with relative academic backgrounds to submit original research paper or review paper to this special issue on Primary Care and Community Health. Potential topics or areas include, but are not limited to:

- Primary health care
- Public health & primary care
- Primary care and risk factor
- Family medicine
- Management of disease in primary care
- Health care in clinics
- Primary care practice
