

Special Issue on Stress and Behavior

Call for Papers

Stress is normal. Everyone experiences stress in some way, which may related to work, family, decisions and so on. It changes mental and emotional processes, which in turn influence body posture, attitude and general behavior.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Stress and Behavior. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Post-traumatic stress disorder
- Stress, memory and learning
- Neurogenetics of stress
- Experimental models of behavior
- Biomarkers of stress
- Stress management
- Neurobiological mechanisms
- Human ethology and social interactions

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Stress and Behavior” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:
