

Special Issue on Cancer Causes and Prevention

Call for Papers

Cancers are a group of diseases characterized by out-of-control cell growth. They have a wide range of causes. Each cancer is different according to its biology and pathophysiology. Cancer prevention is action taken to reduce the risk of getting cancer, which includes avoiding exposure to cancer-causing substances, maintaining a healthy lifestyle, taking medicines or vaccines that can prevent cancer from developing, etc.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Cancer Causes and Prevention. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Aflatoxin
- Carcinogen
- Carcinogenicity
- Diet
- Lifestyle
