

Special Issue on Public Management

Call for Papers

Public Management is the implementation of government policy and also an academic discipline that studies this implementation and prepares civil servants for working in the public service, aiming to maximize efficiency and effectiveness and provide improved customer service. Studying and teaching about public management are widely practiced in developed nations. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in area of public management.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on public management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Management of public programs and resources
- Translation of politics into the reality
- Analysis of the policies and decision making
- Human resources and administration
- Public affairs
- Administrative law and public finance
- Organizational theory
- Public budgeting

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Public Management” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	November 30th, 2017
Publication Date	January 2018

Scientific Research
Open Access

Open Journal of Social Sciences

ISSN Online: 2327-5960

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries

Please contact Editorial Assistant at jss@scirp.org