

Special Issue on Public Administration

Call for Papers

Public Administration is the implementation of government policy and also an academic discipline that studies this implementation and prepares civil servants for working in the public service. Public Administration also involves leading, organizing, financing, and managing organizations that focus on public and not-for-profit service.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Public Administration. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Public management
- Government reform and policy-making
- Organizational theory and behavior
- Enforcement of public policy
- Performance measurement
- Management systems
- Budgeting and financial management
- Administrative law
- Electronic government

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Public Administration” should be chosen during your submission.
