
Special Issue on Child Protection and Welfare

Call for Papers

As the next generation of the country, children need people's care. Violence, abuse and neglect are major issues affecting children's development. The country has formulated a series of welfare systems to protect children. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Child Protection and Welfare.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Child Protection and Welfare. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Child abuse & neglect
- Child care
- Child education
- Child development and parental responsibility
- Children's physical and mental health
- Child sexual abuse
- Vulnerable children & youth studies
- Child labor
- Child welfare
- Child protection policy

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Child Protection and Welfare” should be selected during your submission.
