

Special Issue on Maternal-Fetal Medicine

Call for Papers

Maternal-Fetal Medicine is a medical specialty within obstetrics that addresses high-risk pregnancies. Specialists in this field provide advanced care, monitoring, and interventions to optimize outcomes for both expectant mothers and their unborn babies. They focus on preventing, diagnosing, and managing complications during pregnancy, ensuring the well-being of both maternal and fetal health.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Maternal-Fetal Medicine. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Prenatal diagnosis and screening:
- High-risk pregnancy management
- Fetal imaging, fetal development and abnormalities detection
- Fetal therapy and intervention
- Perinatal epidemiology
- Maternal-fetal immunology
- Maternal mental health and pregnancy
- Maternal-fetal infectious diseases
- Maternal-fetal immunology
- Preterm birth and prematurity
- Obstetric ultrasound and fetal well-being.
- Genetic factors, reproductive health and pregnancy outcomes.
- Fetal anomalies, maternal conditions and maternal-fetal surgery
- Labor and delivery management
- Preterm birth prevention
- Fetal development and physiology
- Fetal cardiology
- Women's reproductive health
- Maternal nutrition

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Maternal-Fetal Medicine” should be chosen during your submission.
