

Special Issue on Logic and Philosophy

Call for Papers

Logic is refers to the study of the methods and principles used in distinguishing correct from incorrect reasoning. Logic in general can be divided into formal logic, informal logic and symbolic logic and mathematical logic. The goal of this Special Issue is to provide a platform for scientists worldwide to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of logic and philosophy.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring logic and philosophy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Logical analysis
- Types of logic
- Truth and validity
- Fallacies
- Paradoxes
- Relations of logic and philosophy
- Applications

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Logic and Philosophy” should be selected during your submission.
