

Special Issue on Political Development and Modernization

Call for Papers

Political modernization is refers to the transformation political culture in response to the changes in social and physical environments in view of this essential fact that political change. In a modern political system, people are closely involved in politics, which plays an active role in improving the quality of life of its citizens apart from performing the conventional functions of government.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring political development and modernization. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Network development and political modernization
- Political modernization and political stability
- Political participation
- Political democracy
- Political development and civilization

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue – Political Development and Modernization” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	November 29th, 2016
Publication Date	January 2017

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries
Please contact Editorial Assistant at ojps@scirp.org