

Special Issue on Political Economy Research

Call for Papers

Political Economy is the interplay between economics, law and politics, and how institutions develop in different social and economic systems, such as capitalism, socialism and communism. Political economy analyzes how public policy is created and implemented.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring political economy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- International political economy
- Political and economic systems
- Economic theory and game theory
- Methods influences political ideology
- Relationship between individuals and society
- Economic sociology and institutional economics

Authors should read over the journal's Authors' Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal at Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue – Political Economy Research” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue timetable:

Submission Deadline	November 15th, 2016
Publication Date	December 2016
