

Special Issue on Global Trade Policy

Call for Papers

Recent years have witnessed the rapid growth of the world economy. International trade plays a vital part in accelerating the speed of the growth. The growth in trade is the result of both technological developments and concerted efforts to reduce trade barriers. Some countries open up their doors and take full advantage of the opportunities for economic development through trade, some do not.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Global Trade Policy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Foreign trade policy
- Bilateral trade
- Tariffs and trade
- Trade agreements and negotiations
- Standards and investment policy
- Global labor market
- Market globalization

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Global Trade Policy” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:
