

Table of Contents

Chapter 1

Post-Complex War of Opposites and Differences within an Ethical Framework

1.1. Post-Complexity: An Epistemological Perspective: A Necessary Introduction.....	1
1.2. Ethics.....	8
1.3. New Ethical Typologies in the Post-Complex Era: “Tunefully Comprehensive Ethics” and Oppositional Logics.....	16
1.4. Other Typologies of Ethics: Focus on the “Patiendi Ethics”	22
1.5. Philosophy of Difference/Diversity, Equality, Otherness, Respect and Tunefully Comprehensive Ethics.....	28

Chapter 2

Justice, Equity and Injustice: Between Freedom and Oppression

2.1. The Concept of Justice.....	35
2.2. Justice and Impartiality: Between Severity and Mercy.....	43
2.3. Freedom as Presupposition of Justice.....	46
2.4. Oppression and Injustice.....	51
2.5. Totalitarian Oppression.....	56
2.6. Digital Domain.....	59
2.7. Oppression, Resilience and Justice.....	61
2.8. Disobedience as a Form of Resilience to Injustice.....	63

2.9. Resistance as a Prelude to a New Justice.....	68
2.10. Revolutionary Desire.....	71
2.11. ‘Revolution’: Analysis of a Concept.....	77
2.12. Revolutionary Justice.....	80
2.13. Revolutionary Justice and Limit.....	86
2.14. Equity: Justice’s Sister.....	94

Chapter 3

Post-Complex Ethics and Justice: Dignity, Otherness, Identity, Hope and Care

3.1. Power, Justice, and Ethics.....	101
3.2. Ethics and Justice: Between Otherness, Care, and Dignity.....	109
3.3. Dignity Ethics.....	112
3.4. Care Ethics.....	115
3.5. Care and Gift.....	121
3.6. Critical Identitarian Justice of Otherness.....	123
3.6.1. Otherness Ethics.....	124
3.6.2. The Concept of Identity.....	128
3.7. Caring Justice.....	137
3.8. Justice and Ethics Require Hope. Remarks by Hillesum and Seneca.....	141
3.9. Identity, Care, Otherness, and Artificial Intelligence.....	144
3.10. Conclusions.....	148
References.....	153