Special Issue on

Occupational and Environmental Medicine

Call for Papers

Occupational and environmental medicine is the medical specialty devoted to the prevention and management of occupational and environmental injury, illness and disability, and promotion of health and productivity of workers, their families and communities.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Occupational and Environmental Medicine. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Injuries treatment at workplace
- Occupational diseases
- Epidemiology and occupational health
- Health promotion and environmental concerns
- Occupational therapy
- Occupational exposure and hazard prevention
- Mental healthcare
- Pain management
- Cancer risk and treatment
- Quality of life
- Medical insurance and policy

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Occupational and Environmental Medicine” should be chosen during your submission.
