Special Issue on Urban Economics and Management

Call for Papers

Urban economics is broadly the economic study of urban areas; as such, it involves using the tools of economics to analyze urban issues such as crime, education, public transit, housing, and local government finance.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Urban Economics and Management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Urban investment and market
- Urbanization and urbanism
- Business district
- Land use economics
- Urban policy and planning
- Real estate and finance
- Urban and rural development
- Residential services and economic analysis
- Housing and finance
- Household finance
- Urban development and strategies
- Regional economics and development

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Urban Economics and Management” should be chosen during your submission.
