

Special Issue on Cultural Anthropology

Call for Papers

Cultural anthropology is a branch of anthropology. It studies the cultures created by various human races to reveal the essence of human culture. The purpose of cultural anthropology is to comprehensively record human cultural adaptation and achievements. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Cultural Anthropology.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Cultural Anthropology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Human cultures
- Kinship and family
- Cultural evolution
- Cultural similarities and differences
- Religion and culture
- Popular culture
- Cultural psychology
- Language and culture

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Cultural Anthropology” should be selected during your submission.
