

Special Issue on Infectious Diseases and Microbiology

Call for Papers

Infectious Diseases and Microbiology is an academic topic that explores the pathogenesis, transmission, diagnosis, and prevention of diseases caused by microbial agents. It involves the study of microorganisms such as bacteria, viruses, fungi, and parasites, and their interactions with the host. This field combines both clinical and laboratory research, utilizing techniques like microbiological cultures, molecular biology, and immunology to gain insights into disease mechanisms and develop effective therapeutic strategies. Infectious Diseases and Microbiology is crucial for understanding and managing global health challenges posed by emerging and re-emerging infectious threats.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Infectious Diseases and Microbiology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Clinical microbiology and infection
- Viral infections
- Bacterial infections
- Fungal infections
- HIV infection
- Microbial pathogenesis
- Epidemiology of infectious diseases
- Immunology of infectious diseases
- Diagnostic microbiology
- Antimicrobial resistance

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Infectious Diseases and Microbiology” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	July 25th, 2024
Publication Date	September 2024
