

Special Issue on Social Media and Technology Law

Call for Papers

Social media is the perfect platform for brands to attract customers. Social media law covers legal issues related to user-generated content and online websites that host or transmit content. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Social Media and Technology Law.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Social Media and Technology Law. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Cyberbullying
- Online harassment
- Online privacy and surveillance
- Social media in the courtroom
- Advertising law and intellectual property (IP) law
- E-discovery
- Social media, legal practice and professionalism
- Sexting
- Online dispute resolution

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Social Media and Technology Law” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	May 11th, 2021
