Special Issue on Public Law

Call for Papers

Public Law is a branch of law that governs the relationship between individuals and the state, as well as the structure and operation of government institutions. It encompasses constitutional law, administrative law, and criminal law, focusing on the legal principles that regulate public authorities and ensure accountability, transparency, and the protection of fundamental rights. Public law plays a critical role in maintaining the rule of law, balancing power among branches of government, and safeguarding civil liberties. It is essential for upholding democratic governance, promoting justice, and ensuring that public institutions act within the bounds of legality.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Public Law. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Administrative law
- Constitutional law
- Criminal law
- Education law
- Electoral law
- Environmental law
- Freedom of information law
- Health law
- Human rights law
- Immigration law
- Local government law
- Military and security law
- Public international law
- Regulatory law
- Social welfare law
- Tax law

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Public Law” should be selected during your submission.
