Special Issue on Civil Law

Call for Papers

Civil Law focuses on the foundational principles, evolving interpretations, and contemporary applications of private law systems that govern relationships between individuals and institutions. This issue invites scholarly contributions that explore diverse areas such as contract law, torts, property rights, family law, and obligations, as well as the influence of comparative civil law traditions across different jurisdictions. Submissions may address doctrinal analysis, legal reforms, case studies, and interdisciplinary approaches that reflect the dynamic role of civil law in modern societies, particularly in the context of globalization, digitalization, and socio-economic change.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Civil Law. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Civil procedure
- Commercial law
- Consumer protection
- Contract law
- Corporate law
- Family law
- Insurance law
- Intellectual property law
- Labor law
- Land tenure law
- Obligations law
- Private international law
- Property law
- Succession law
- Tort law
- Trusts and estates

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Civil Law” should be selected during your submission.
