

Special Issue on Adult and Vocational Education

Call for Papers

Adult education is a practice in which adults engage in systematic and sustained self-educating activities in order to gain new forms of knowledge, skills, attitudes, or values. It can mean any form of learning adults engage in beyond traditional schooling, encompassing basic literacy to personal fulfillment as a lifelong learner.

Vocational education is education that prepares students for work in a specific trade, a craft, as a technician, or in professional vocations such as engineering, accountancy, nursing, medicine, architecture, or law.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Adult and Vocational Education. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Workforce education and career development
- Employment, leadership and innovation
- Assessing and evaluating
- Technical Education
- Professional development
- Life-long learning

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Adult and Vocational Education” should be chosen during your submission.
