Special Issue on Humanities, Social Sciences & Education

Call for Papers

Humanities, Social Sciences & Education is an academic research topic that encompasses a wide range of disciplines such as philosophy, history, literature, sociology, anthropology, psychology, education and many more. It focuses on the study of human behavior, culture, society, and education, and aims to understand and explain the complexities of human experiences and interactions. It explores various aspects of human life, including politics, art, language, religion, economics, and ethics, and examines how they impact society and shape people's beliefs and behaviors. This field of study promotes critical thinking, creativity, and reflection, and encourages interdisciplinary approaches to problem-solving and knowledge production.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Humanities, Social Sciences & Education. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:
