

Special Issue on
Educational Administration, Policy and Leadership
Call for Papers

"Educational Administration, Policy and Leadership" is an academic field that focuses on the study and examination of the various aspects of managing educational institutions, developing and implementing policies in the education sector, and providing effective leadership within educational organizations. This interdisciplinary area of research aims to explore topics such as educational governance, strategic planning, curriculum development, school finance, educational law, and the role of leadership in fostering positive change and driving improvement in educational systems. Scholars and practitioners in this field analyze and critically evaluate policies, practices, and initiatives to enhance educational administration and leadership, with the ultimate goal of improving the quality and outcomes of education at all levels.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Educational Administration, Policy and Leadership. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:
