

Special Issue on Case Reports in Pediatrics

Call for Papers

Case Reports in Pediatrics is an academic research topic that involves the publication and analysis of individual cases of pediatric patients with unusual or rare medical conditions, diagnostic dilemmas, or innovative treatment approaches. These reports provide valuable insights into clinical practice and contribute to the existing knowledge in the field of pediatrics. They also serve as a reference source for healthcare professionals, enabling them to learn from unique cases and improve patient care.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Case Reports in Pediatrics. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Pediatric cardiology
- Pediatric gastroenterology
- Pediatric nephrology
- Pediatric infectious diseases
- Pediatric rheumatology
- Pediatric surgery
- Pediatric neurology and neurodevelopment
- Pediatric oncology and hematology
- Pediatric allergy and immunology
- Pediatric endocrinology and diabetes
- Pediatric pulmonology and respiratory diseases
- Pediatric otorhinolaryngology
- Child development and behavioral disorders
- Neonatal medicine and perinatology
- Rare diseases and complex medical conditions in pediatrics

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Case Reports in Pediatrics” should be chosen during your submission.
