

Special Issue on Case Reports on Cardiology

Call for Papers

Case reports on cardiology are detailed presentations of the medical history, diagnosis, treatment, and follow-up of individual patient cases involving cardiovascular diseases or conditions. These reports are invaluable in the medical field as they often highlight rare occurrences, novel treatments, unusual presentations of common diseases, or innovative diagnostic approaches. By documenting and sharing these unique clinical experiences, case reports contribute to the broader understanding of cardiac disorders, offering insights into their management and potential complications.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Case Reports on Cardiology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Congenital heart disease case reports
- Coronary artery disease case reports
- Heart failure case reports
- Arrhythmia case reports
- Cardiomyopathies case reports
- Valvular heart disease case reports
- Hypertension case reports
- Pulmonary hypertension case reports
- Cardiac imaging case reports
- Interventional cardiology case reports
- Cardiac surgery case reports
- Pharmacotherapy in cardiology case reports
- Rare and unusual cardiac conditions case reports

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Case Reports on Cardiology” should be chosen during your submission.
