Special Issue on Public Health in Post Covid Era

Call for Papers

"Public Health in Post Covid Era" is an academic topic that focuses on the challenges, strategies, and opportunities for public health in the aftermath of the Covid-19 pandemic. It explores how the world can build resilient public health systems, implement effective preventive measures, and address the lingering effects of the pandemic on population health. This research field examines the lessons learned from the crisis, identifies innovative approaches for future preparedness, and investigates the social, economic, and psychological impacts of the pandemic on individuals and communities.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Public Health in Post Covid Era. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Transmission dynamics and modeling
