Special Issue on Head & Neck Surgery

Call for Papers

Head and Neck Surgery is a medical specialty that focuses on the diagnosis, treatment, and management of conditions affecting the head and neck region, including the skull, face, throat, and neck. This field encompasses various surgical procedures aimed at addressing conditions such as head and neck tumors, facial trauma, salivary gland disorders, thyroid and parathyroid diseases, as well as reconstructive surgeries to restore functionality and aesthetics to these areas. Head and Neck Surgeons utilize advanced surgical techniques and interdisciplinary collaboration to provide comprehensive care for patients with these complex disorders.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Head & Neck Surgery. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Head and neck oncology
- Maxillofacial surgery
- Rhinoplasty
- Facial plastic and reconstructive surgery
- Skull base surgery
- Rhinology and sinus surgery
- Laryngology
- Pediatric head and neck surgery
