

Special Issue on Anesthesia Research

Call for Papers

Anesthesia research is a field of study focused on improving the safety, efficacy, and outcomes of anesthesia and related procedures. Anesthesia is the use of medications to prevent a patient from feeling pain or discomfort during medical procedures. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Anesthesia Research.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Anesthesia Research. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Anesthetic pharmacology
- Anesthetic agents
- Anesthesia monitoring
- Anesthesia delivery systems
- Pain management
- Regional anesthesia
- Obstetric anesthesia
- Pediatric anesthesia
- Cardiac anesthesia
- Neuroanesthesia
- Anesthetic complications
- Anesthesia education
- Anesthetic awareness
- Anesthetic toxicity
- Patient safety
- Quality improvement
- Anesthesia equipment
- Sedation
- Fluid and electrolyte management
- Risks and complications

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Anesthesia Research” should be selected during your submission.
