

Special Issue on Clinical Oncology Case Studies

Call for Papers

"Clinical Oncology Case Studies" delves into detailed examinations of individual or grouped cancer cases to elucidate diagnostic processes, treatment decisions, and patient management strategies. This academic focus highlights the practical application of oncological theories, research findings, and clinical practices. By analyzing real-life scenarios, it facilitates understanding of the complexities and challenges in cancer care, fostering insights into innovative therapies, patient responses, and outcomes. It serves as a critical tool for continuous learning and improvement in oncology practice.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Clinical Oncology Case Studies. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Uncommon and atypical cancer forms
- Therapeutic approaches and patient prognoses
- Unintended consequences and treatment-related Challenges
- Obstacles and strategies in cancer diagnosis
- Genetic foundations and molecule-based identification
- Palliative care and supportive oncology
- Surgical case reports for cancer
- Radiation oncology case reports
- Integrative oncology
- Complementary therapies
