

Special Issue on Supply Chain Management

Call for Papers

In commerce, supply chain management (SCM), the management of the flow of goods and services, involves the movement and storage of raw materials, of work-in-process inventory, and of finished goods from point of origin to point of consumption. Interconnected or interlinked networks, channels and node businesses combine in the provision of products and services required by end customers in a supply chain.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original researches and review articles on exploring supply chain management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Theories
- Management components
- Reverse supply chain
- Business process integration
- Tax efficient supply chain management
- Sustainability and social responsibility in supply chains
- Applications

Authors should read over the journal's Authors' Guidelines carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal at Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue – Supply Chain Management” should be selected during your submission.
