Special Issue on Art, Literature and Culture

Call for Papers

The arts are the human practices of creative expression, storytelling and cultural participation, through which the human beings cultivate distinct social, cultural and individual identities, while transmitting values, impressions, judgments, ideas, visions, spiritual meanings, patterns of life and experiences across time and space. Literature is the collection of written work, usually specifically considered to be an art form. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Art, Literature and Culture.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Art, Literature and Culture. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Fine arts (such as painting, sculpture, drawing)
- Visual arts (such as ceramics, filmmaking, photography)
- Literary arts (such as fiction, drama, poetry, prose)
- Performing arts (such as dance, music, theatre)
- Textiles and fashion
- Culinary arts
- Conceptual art and artistic skill
- Artistic works

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Art, Literature and Culture” should be selected during your submission.
