

Special Issue on Development Studies and Sustainability

Call for Papers

Development Studies and Sustainability involves in varied dimensions of development, which includes environmental, social, economic and human dimensions. It seeks for innovative strategies, new conceptual and practical tools and holistic policies to ensure a sustainable development. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Development Studies and Sustainability.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Development Studies and Sustainability. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Earth system governance
- Economic history
- Economic, social and environmental challenges
- Environmental and sustainability
- Environmental change and ecosystems
- Government policy and regulation
- International development
- Land and water use
- Moral and social issues relating to sustainability
- Organizational culture and practices
- Organizational skills and time management
- Organizational strategy and business models
- Pollution and sustainability
- Resources and energy
- Sustainable design and technology
- Sustainable finance and investment
- Sustainable production and consumption

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Development Studies and Sustainability” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	March 8th, 2023
Publication Date	May 2023

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at jss@scirp.org.