

Special Issue on Economic Growth and Reconstruction

Call for Papers

"Economic Growth and Reconstruction" focuses on understanding the factors that drive economic growth, particularly in post-conflict or crisis-affected regions. Researchers in this field study policies and strategies for rebuilding economies, creating jobs, and fostering sustainable development after periods of instability. They analyze the impact of economic growth on poverty reduction, social cohesion, and political stability, aiming to support efforts to reconstruct and revitalize economies for long-term prosperity.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Economic Growth and Reconstruction. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Globalization and economic development
- Industrialization and economic growth
- Marketing and economic development
- Open markets and free trade
- Open economy
- Labor and economic development
- Technological innovation
- Sustainable development
- Post-conflict economic reconstruction
- Sustainable development post-crisis
- Economic policy reform
- Job creation and employment strategies
- Infrastructure development
- Social inclusion and economic growth
- Economic resilience building
- Rebuilding trade and investment

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the "Special Issue" under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field "Special Issue – *Economic Growth and Reconstruction" should be chosen during your submission.
