

Special Issue on Finance and Investment

Call for Papers

Finance and Investment is an academic topic that explores the management and allocation of financial resources. It covers a wide range of areas, including investment analysis, corporate finance, financial planning, risk management, and financial markets. This field of study examines how financial decisions are made and the impact they have on individuals, businesses, and economies. It also delves into topics like portfolio management, asset pricing, valuation techniques, and the roles of financial institutions. The goal of this research is to enhance understanding and guide decision-making in the financial realm.
