

Special Issue on Economic Development

Call for Papers

"Economic development" refers to the process by which a nation improves the economic, political, and social well-being of its people. It encompasses efforts to increase the standard of living through job creation, innovation, and sustainable practices. This field examines how to effectively use financial, human, and natural resources to foster economic growth, reduce poverty, and enhance the quality of life. Key areas include industrialization, technological advancement, and infrastructure development, aiming to build a more prosperous and equitable society.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Economic Development. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Development economics
- Growth theories and models
- Financial development
- Globalization and economic development
- International trade and development
- Technological and innovation development
- Inequality and inclusive growth
- Role of institutions in development
- Labor markets and employment
- Infrastructure development
- Urbanization and smart cities
- Entrepreneurship and innovation
- Industrialization and economic growth
- Marketing and economic development
- Open markets and free trade
- Open economy
- Environmental and sustainable development
- Economic policy reform
- Social inclusion and economic growth
- Economic resilience building

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – *Economic Development” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	January 9th, 2025
Publication Date	March 2025

For publishing inquiries, please feel free to contact the Editorial Assistant at submission.entrance1@scirp.org

ME Editorial Office
me@scirp.org