Special Issue on Entrepreneurship and Innovation in Business

Call for Papers

Entrepreneurship is the capacity and willingness to develop, organize and manage a business venture along with any of its risks in order to make a profit. The most obvious example of entrepreneurship is the starting of new businesses. In economics, entrepreneurship combined with land, labor, natural resources and capital can produce profit. Entrepreneurial spirit is characterized by innovation and risk-taking, and is an essential part of a nation's ability to succeed in an ever changing and increasingly competitive global marketplace.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Entrepreneurship and Innovation in Business. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Entrepreneurial orientation and firm performance
- Strategic management and entrepreneurship
- Sustainable business models
- Innovation and product management
- Global business development
- Innovation and business growth
- Entrepreneurial marketing
- Entrepreneurial finance
- Business environment & entrepreneurship
- Innovation and competition
- Corporate entrepreneurship and venturing
- Social entrepreneurship and business ethics
- Small business development
- Entrepreneurship and startups
- Entrepreneurship and innovations in e-business

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed
