

Special Issue on Logic and Philosophy

Call for Papers

Logic is a branch of philosophy, which is a study of the law of thinking. Logic is a science that studies forms of thinking, laws of thinking, and logical methods of thinking. Logic can generally be divided into formal logic, symbolic logic, and mathematical logic. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Logic and Philosophy.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Logic and Philosophy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Aristotelian logic
- Logic and information
- Logic and thought
- Logical analysis
- Logical fallacies
- Logical truth
- Paradoxes
- Philosophical skepticism
- Philosophical theories of logic
- Rational thinking
- Relations of logic and philosophy
- Truth and validity
- Types of logic

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Logic and Philosophy” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	April 30th, 2024
Publication Date	June 2024

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at ojpp@scirp.org.