

---

Special Issue on Political Communication

Call for Papers

Political communication refers to the exchange of information, ideas, and messages that shape the relationship between political actors, institutions, and the public. It encompasses various forms of communication, including speeches, debates, advertising, social media, and news coverage. Political communication plays a crucial role in shaping public opinion, influencing voting behavior, and mobilizing support for political campaigns and policies. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Political Communication.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Political Communication. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Political actors
- Institutions
- Exchange of information
- Relationship
- Communication forms
- Speeches
- Debates
- Advertising
- Social media
- News coverage
- Public opinion
- Voting behavior
- Mobilizing support
- Political campaigns
- Communication strategies
- Media effects

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Political Communication” should be selected during your submission.

---

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	December 15th, 2023
Publication Date	February 2024

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at ojps@scirp.org.